

II MORPHING GARMENT II

The garment is an abstraction of an idealized dynamic personality that could be worn like a new skin.

Fabricated by strips of compressed foam sheets which vary in width, the technique of weaving them together allows for flexible composition and movement of the body.